Cotton Theory Book 2	Betty Cotton	Quilt First ? Then Assemble? is the motto of Cotton Theory quilting, and it?s as easy as it sounds. You simply ?quilt as you go.? With traditional quilts, the actual quilting process is often the least favorite part of constructing a quilt, especially if the project is large. But with Cotton Theory quilting, the process becomes enjoyable. Pieces are layered with batting, quilted individually, and then sewn together. Imagine connecting tiny quilts into one big, completely reversible quilt. That?s what Cotton Theory quilting is all about. The 14 step-by-step projects in this book include placemats, a table runner, wall hangings, a rug, and several quilts. Each chapter features color photos and detailed illustrations. Skill levels for projects range from beginning to advanced. With Cotton Theory quilting, large seam allowances are folded and topstitched into place on the outside of the quilt, adding an eye-catching, three-dimensional look to the finished project. Cotton Theory quilting methods can be used with traditional quilt blocks if simple modifications are made. Although traditional quilt blocks do not have large seam allowances, extra fabric can be cleverly incorporated to solve this problem. This book shows you how to enlarge back-side fabrics, reduce overall dimensions of blocks, and use setting triangles and framing strips to construct Cotton Theory quilts with traditional blocks. If you have acquired quilt blocks from relatives, block-of-the-month programs, block exchanges, or other sources, now is the time to turn them into finished quilts. Although most of the projects in this book include instructions for piecing blocks, you can substitute your own blocks and skip the associated yardage, cutting, and piecing for those blocks. Instructions in each chapter explain how to cut, layer, quilt, and assemble projects. You can quilt your blocks as desired and assemble your own unique Cotton Theory quilt. You can use decorative stitches, contrasting thread colors, embroidery, bobbin work, folding techniques, and bindings to produce the quilt of your dreams. All you need are fabric, batting, sewing supplies, your sewing machine, and your imagination. Although this is

Folk Art Applique Quilts	Dawn Fitzpatrick	This amazing book isn't just pretty to look a art book, (although the artworks are beautiful and presented full page), it isn't just a 'how to copy book', although you are free to do that, it is much more than all that, for it helps unlock the hidden designer/artist within, as it shows you how to create, using the same images, carefully and clearly illustrated, to create a copy of what the artist Dawn Fitzpatrick has created, or your own version. It shows you how to be bold and select patterned material for animals and birds with striking effect. Dawn Fitzpatrick is regarded as a pioneer in this area, her work, exhibited since the early 1970s, in an interview in The Sydney Morning Herald newspaper (in the 1970s) she coined the term for "Cloth Art", hangs in State Parliament House in New South Wales, Australia, in the Prime Minister's Museum in Canberra Australia, Film Australia Board room, Thai Airlines boardroom. Her artworks are in the collections of Jack Nicholson (American actor), Colin Croft (British producer/writer) and many other private collections around the world; England, Israel, Switzerland, USA, Canada, Australia, Japan, Hong Kong etc. At 93 years of age, Dawn Fitzpatrick has long given up on this style of work, but continues to prolifically create drawings in 2015! Out of print, this is a rare and scarcely found book today, I think it is high time it is re-published so another generation may see, and create, these marvellous artworks. Years ago I discovered there is another book, in the same style as this one, but remains unpublished sitting in her bookcase, it is titled "WALLFLOWERS" with lots of designs you can create easily and hang on your wall, a vibrant 'Cloth Art window' you may enliven a boring blank wall with, then, roll up and take with you when you move to a new place! Such a great idea!
